Hanging a Child's Brain.
Who Is Karpoff?
The King Is Elected.
Expensive Shirts.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

Why the news comes in over cables, through telephone wires and by wireless. How does it express the Angel Gabriel, as he is, it down, with the name of the day and the date? What a book must lie before him on his side, proved by experts to have brain of a child 11 years old, is hanged for murder. The judge says to the sentence: "May God have mercy on your soul." The condemned man says, "Thank you," and dies. In the days of Ben Franklin, a birthday comes next Monday. Used to hang children 11 years old. We don't do that now, but we men with the brains of children.

the hanging news comes from London. From London, most important of the day's news, it comes away of Berlin the statement that Karpoff is dead. Karpoff is the name under which Lenin is known to his friends. It is the name used in his writings in days when czar was hunting for him to send back to Siberia before Lenin had the car to his long rest. Yesterday you read that Lenin, suddenly ill, had sent for three specialists to Berlin. That sounded like politics. If he is dead today, if "Karpoff" is dead, and Lenin is dead, it is a piece of world news. That would follow his death? Probably a military dictatorship headed by Trotsky, who has proved his fighting quality. Would Trotsky last long about Lenin, his balance-wheel? Doubtful. Then would come next, perfectly seriously, the London Times announces George of England has just been elected a member of the large black pig society. The breeds fine Berkshire swine and only sold some to the king of Spain. Sign Fein will say that the election was appropriate, that head of the British empire should be to that particular society.

Senator McCormack and the French are also worried because the senatorial election in the United States is just being held. The senatorial election in France is also being held. The French are also worried because the senatorial election in the United States is just being held.

David Lazarus, primary politician leader, thinks that hard times will kill off Socialism. Says he: "If unemployment keeps up, we won't be bothered by the Socialists so much in the future. They won't be high and mighty when they're out of a job. It's easy to be a Socialist when you have a $60 or $70 a week, but when you're out of work you're in the organization that can get something to do."

Mr. Lazarus of Tammany Hall is taken. It is poverty, not wealth, that makes Socialists. The original Lazarus was probably more of a Socialist while picking the crumbs and living than later, when he was provided for.

The ablest Socialist leader in this country, with at least fifty thousand individual followers, admitted that he had lost more than forty-nine thousand, five hundred of them. If each could inherit fifty thousand dollars, the best antidote for radicalism is poverty. Poverty causes anxiety, anxiety causes thought. Look out for thought—it is explosive.

One of the most important officials engaged in enforcing prohibition says that prohibition is impossible for the present, but will come, after this generation, among people that do not know the taste of whisky or the intonation for it.

What about the red men whom the traders met with their whiskey bottles in the early days? Those red men didn't know anything about whiskey; they had gone without it for many centuries, and so far as alcohol is concerned, everyone of them is as pure as William Jennings Bryan himself. They took to whiskey rather suddenly when the chance came.

CREATES SPIRIT OF OPTIMISM.

In a number of towns business men are combining to make display advertisements to create a spirit of optimism. In the Daytona (Fla.) News for instance, there has been appearing during the last few days a big two-page display advertisement made up from cards from the leading builders, contractors, real estate men and others urging optimism on the part of the people and immediate construction work in the erection of much-needed dwellings. Similar work, we believe, is being carried on in other sections. The opportunity is great for this kind of advertising, in direct contrast with that spirit where men are anxious to have newspapers do all the work of optimistic preaching while they stop their work of publicity and seek to save a few dollars more, because there has been a temporary lull in business or a temporary reduction in their

It is well for the newspapers to preach optimism wherever their preaching is founded on fact, but all the editorials of all the newspapers in the land proclaiming optimism would not have as great effect as would the crowded advertising columns of newspapers. The Manufacturers Record voices the belief of its editorial staff when it proclaims optimism, but if the thousand advertisers numbered among its clients were in their advertising carrying on the same kind of campaign, and doing it with equal energy, their power for spreading optimism would be infinitely greater than that of the editorial pages. The same is true as to every other paper in the land. The man who withdraws advertising because of temporary slackening business has no right whatever to expect that when he falls by his acts to preach optimism other people can assume and carry on the burden which he has shouldered. —Manufacturers Record, Jan. 13.

FEDERAL TROOPS ARE ASKED TO TAKE PLACED OF NATIONAL GUARDS

(United Press.)
BIRMINGHAM, Jan. 18.—The request for federal troops to replace National Guardsmen in the Alabama coal mine strike resulted from the lynching of William Beard, a miner, who was in jail. Van A. Blinn, international representative of the miners union declared today. Guardsmen are incompetent to handle the situation, Blinn declared. Ten members of the Alabama guard are under arrest in connection with Beard's death.

Request Reaches White House
(United Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—A message from the chiefs of striking Alabama coal miners has been received at the White House and referred to the war department. It was learned today. It is understood the message asked the replacement of militia in the strike zone by federal troops. It is expected the war department will refer the message to the southern corps commander, who has power to pass on the request.

RUSSIA GETS UGLY AFTER FRENCH CRUISER SINKS A BOLSH SHIP ON BLACK SEA

Wiretappers Busy Again, but Fear Daytona Police Sleuths

"There's one born every minute." The philosophy of the late P. T. Barnum was well founded on fact, for victims are again being sought—and found—for many ancient swindles, by organized bands of "con" men, some of whom have operated right here in Florida.

Newspapers for years have been filled with accounts of persons being robbed through the sale of gold bricks, green goods and many other time-tried devices to separate the unsuspecting ones from their bank rolls. Their schemes have been exposed until one would think that there is no body who would "fall" for one of these gags, but such is not the case, and the operators of the swindles prosper and their victims apparently take their medicine and ask for some more of the same.

Probably the most popular swindle of all, at least as far as Florida ever was concerned, is the famous "wire-tapping" scheme.

On the Job Again in Other States
Reports reaching this city are to the effect that Mr. Wiretapper is on the job again in nearby states, looking for fall-guys who are ready to "play a sure thing," but his efforts of the police thus far have kept the operators of this gentle method of harvesting the dough, away from Volusia county since one episode last year.

The wiretapping swindle is founded on a well known human failing, that of wanting to secure some easy money. Usually the victim is just as dishonest as the swindler, the difference between the two being that the victim will set up a "holer" after being "tricked" for a few hundreds or thousands, as the case may be.

Wiretappers work in gangs of a half dozen operators or more, and their equipment can be easily carried in a very small hand bag. An apartment or private house and sometimes an office in a downtown office building is rented, and the gang proceeds to install a telegraph instrument, blackboard or chart, and then everything is set to receive "returns" from the races at Havana, New Orleans or wherever they may be then. A confederate in another room also has a sending instrument, and as the victims usually are ignorant of the Morse code, any jumble of dots and dashes answers the purpose of the game.

SEN. CARTER GLASS GIVES VIEWS ON THE TAXATION QUESTION

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Discussing the taxation problem, Senator Carter Glass, former secretary of the treasury, today recommended following a continuation of direct taxes such as those on income, elimination wherever possible of indirect taxes like that on excess profits, economy in governmental expenditures and defense of protective tariff regulations.

THE FAME HANDICAP

The self-made man without schooling who attains great distinction is one of our cherished American institutions. He is a national product that makes us justly proud of America and yet he occurs only in the ratio of six to a million of population.

To one of him there are 978 men who have gained distinction with the aid of college education, according to figures compiled by an investigator.

This investigator found that without schooling only 31 out of 5 millions attain distinction.

With elementary schooling only 508 out of 33,000,000 attained distinction. With college educations 5768 out of one million attained distinction.

While such exemplars as Lincoln are inspiring to our national pride, the boy who, like Lincoln, is without any schooling whatever is a long shot of 978 to 1 in the race for fame against a college boy.

And even one with a high school education has about one chance to win fame against one for a person with a college degree.

If to win fame or distinction were the principal aim of existence, then the figures would be discouraging. But there are vast multitudes with only a common school or high school education who, while never attaining distinction, are comfortable citizens living rightous lives, paying their debts and bringing up their children to good citizenship. And there accomplishments are about as much as should be expected of any citizen.

The backbone of a nation are not the famous citizens, but the average fellows.

BABE RUTH'S LESSON

The fame of Babe Ruth suffered a reverse recently. He essayed to play basketball and, according to newspaper dispatches, he played so poorly that those who came to applaud stayed out to jeer, so that Babe was taken out of the game. Such is the faithlessness of the fickle goddess popularity.

As the duchess said to Alice in Wonderland, "There is a moral in everything if you only can find it." And the obvious moral in Babe's case is that a man can serve himself best by sticking to the job he knows best how to do.

The reason for much of the failure we observe in human life is that too many are wrongly placed. A good backlayer often is lost in a poor lawyer, and, doubtless, there are poor bricklayers who would make better lawyers.

Round pegs in square holes and square pegs in round holes! Human happiness would be beneficially served if all the misplaced pegs could be so shaken up that the round ones would fall into their proper places and the square ones into theirs.

The best thing that can happen to some men is to be fired so that, perforce, they go forth and find the job best suited to their capabilities. Many men never find themselves. Others,

Jack Manners fought! He fought because he had fighting blood in him! His real father was a "regular fellow," as he often proudly boasted. He had lost his life helping a sick man through the Chilgoot Pass, in Alaska. Ah, but his father wasn't dead—and that's the story of "Smoldering Embers," the Pathe feature which presents Frank Keenan at his Seabreeze Opera House tonight.

"Smoldering Embers" adds an entirely new characterization to Frank Keenan's long list of screen and stage successes. As the picturesque, tenderhearted, generous old tramp, he is a figure long to be remembered, and the part he plays in the romance of his son is vital and beautiful.

Rex Beach Picture Tomorrow.

Rex Beach has again demonstrated his ability as the most consistent writer of great photodramas now appearing on the screen. His latest Goldwyn production, "The Girl from Outside," which will be shown at the Seabreeze Opera House Wednesday afternoon and evening, has won the unstinted praise of the National Board of Review. Moreover, it was enthusiastically received by the managers of the new Capitol theatre in New York, the largest theatre in the United States devoted exclusively to motion pictures. The manager booked the picture for two weeks, on Broadway, which honor has never before been accorded a regular release.

"The Girl from Outside," coming directly on the heels of Mr. Beach's recent masterpiece, "The Crimson Gardenia," is proving to motion picture enthusiasts the author's remarkable comprehension of the needs of motion photography. Everyone concerned with the production became enthused at the wonderful story. The consequence of this enthusiasm of director, cameraman and actors has resulted in such fine work that Reginald Barker, the director, was given a big new contract to sign, and several of the actors, Clara Horton, Cullen Landis, and some of the minor characters, were immediately signed up for several years' work under the Goldwyn banner. A Rex Beach story is a promise of thrills; but Mr. Beach is too fine a craftsman to insert a fight or any other powerful scene unless the telling of the story demands it. "The Girl from Outside" is the kind of story in which thrilling scenes form part of the story. They are natural, are never lurid or overdone; and consequently the picture moves so rapidly throughout its seven reels that it seems like a two-reeler.

Mrs. A. O. Holroyd returned last evening from a visit to Jacksonville.

One of the most interesting illustrated talks, of the series being given each Monday evening by Miss Leah Walters, at the home of Mrs. M. L. Stanley, was on "Edinburgh with Scott and Burns Country," given Monday evening, before a large and interesting number of local people. Miss Walters carried her hearers into the country of Burns and Scott, giving views among which she spent considerable time. Edinburgh history was entertainingly given, the talk being greatly enjoyed.

"Coby," Genial Daytona Beach
Resident, Here With Minstrels

"Coby" as he is known locally by his legion of friends, or J. A. Coburn, as his mail is addressed, is in town again with his famous minstrel show, which is the attraction at the Auditorium this evening, a second performance to be played Wednesday evening.

Mr. Coburn and his family are winter residents of Daytona Beach, although they confess that they spend too little time here, because of the necessity of accompanying the troupe to all parts of the country, but nevertheless they are great boosters for the Triple Cities.

J. A. Coburn's Minstrels have with them as usual, Charley Gano, the leading light of the show, also a corps of funny fellows, singers, vaudeville and headline acts.

Everything this year is said to be bright and new from the parade uniforms and concert band to the last act in the show, with special scenery and costumes for every number.

Carl Cameron's Saxoland, a clever quintet of musicians and dancers; Frank Clark, banjoist and comedian; Turner Brothers, novelty acrobatic dancers and gymnasts; Eddie Horan, America's dancer; Edward C. Clifford, baritone, with Cleon Coffin, Joe McAnaulon, Homer Featheringill, basso, and other singers in a singing act; Charles Holst, the yodeller; Denton, male soprano, in entire change of act and elaborate wardrobe, are some of the offerings. It is said to be the biggest and best company Manager Coburn has presented in twenty-two years of continuous success.

Prologue, Patriot Pageant, Prepared by Dr. McBrien for News, Describes Play Setting

Miss Margaret M. Streeter of Camden, N. J., formerly supervisor of music in the high schools of Los Angeles, Cal., arrived last night to assist Dr. J. L. McBrien in making preparations for the National Educational Conference to be held at the Auditorium this week, beginning at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, and also in the production of the patriotic pageant, "The Patriot of Mount Vernon."

Miss Streeter will have the direction of the women's parts in the pageant and will take the part of Martha Washington among the Colonial dancers. She has decided to substitute the Sellinger's Round for the minuet as the dance to be given. The same ladies selected for the minuet will be used. There will be many patriotic songs, some by the patriots, others by the Tories, and even "God Save the King" will be heard. In fact, all of the realistic scenes of the revolutionary period will be reproduced in a strikingly realistic fashion. The following prologue of the pageant, prepared by Dr. McBrien, is adapted largely from the famous address of the late Senator John W. Daniel of Virginia, delivered at the dedication of the Washington National Monument and the tribute of the late Hon. James G. Blaine to the memory of Abraham Lincoln:

The hero of the play passes out into the world of stern adventure, taking as naturally to the field and the frontier as the eagle to the air. At the age of 21 he is riding from Williamsburg to the French post in western Pennsylvania on a mission for Governor Danville, which requires courage to cope with savages and sagacity to negotiate with white men. At 22 he has heard the bullets whistle in battle and found something charming in the sound. He emerges from the ill-starred expedition under General Braddock as the only mounted officer unscathed in the disaster, escaping with four bullets through his clothes, and after having two horses shot under him. These arduous conflicts continue until the French power in America is broken and America has been made whole to the English speaking race, to become in time a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

Thus, in the school of experience, time-tried and fire-tested, building wiser than he knew, Washington had taken no small part in cherishing the seed of a nation's welfare.

Mount Vernon welcomes back the soldier of 27, who has won a name. Domestic felicity spreading its charms around him with the "agreeable partner" whom he has taken to his bosom, and he dreams of "more happiness than he has experienced in the wide and bustling world."

Already, ere his sword had found its scabbard, the people of Frederick county had made him their member of the House of Burgesses. And the quiet years roll by as the planter, merchant and representative spends his days, posts his books, keeps his crops, chases the fox for amusement, or rides over to Annapolis and lends the aid of the Maryland capital—alternating between those private pursuits and serving his people as member of the legislature and justice of the county court.

But ere long this happy life is broken. The air is electric with the currents of revolution. England has launched forth on the fatal policy of taxing her colonies without their consent. The spirit of liberty and resistance is aroused. He is both a part with the Mother Land, which he still calls "home." But she turns a deaf ear to reason. The first Continental Congress is called. He is a delegate, and rides to Philadelphia with Henry and Pendleton. The blow at Lexington is struck. The people rush to arms. The sons of the Cavaliers spring to the side of the sons of the Pilgrims. "Unhappy it is," he says, "that a brother's sword has been sheathed in a brother's breast, and that the once happy plains of America are to be either drenched in blood or inhabited by slaves. Aviator Completes Course at Flying School on Beach

Edward Parr of South Orange, N. J., who came here to take the aviation course in the flying school of Stanton & Lindley, has finished and is now a full fledged aviator and his pilot's license will be issued to him at once. He speaks in the highest terms of the services of his tutors and says he was very fortunate in coming to their school. Mr. Parr thinks there is a great future for first class aviators, and it is his intention to make this his life's work. He is an earnest appearing young man.

live! But how can a virtuous man hesitate in his choice? He becomes commander-in-chief of the American forces. After seven years' war he is the deliverer of his country. The old Confederation passes away. The Constitution is established. He is twice chosen president and will not consent longer to serve.

In his farewell address he gives anxious thought to the problems of free government and the testing of the republic. He looks beyond the present and hears the voice of the future. His counsel, like the counsel of the Lord, standeth forever. Oh! felicitous Providence that gave to America our Washington!

Dr. McBrien is well pleased with the arrangements here and says the arrangements and preparations for this conference and pageant are as far along as they well could be. He is proud in his praise of President R. S. Holmes and Director James Heaton for their preliminary work.

East Coast Bank Re-elects Former Officers for 1921

At a recent meeting of the stockholders of the East Coast State bank the following officers were re-elected:
 Fred N. Conrad, president.
 F. J. Niver, vice president.
 C. A. Randall, cashier.
 D. A. Weston, assistant cashier.
 The first three named and the following were chosen directors: E. H. Webster, A. E. Donnelly, S. A. Woods and Bert Fish.

All of the reports showed the bank to be in a healthy condition, with over a half million dollars on deposit, an increase of 33 per cent since the last annual meeting. A 10 per cent dividend was declared and paid to the stockholders.

Because the present banking house is inadequate in size for the transaction of the growing business of this excellent institution, it was decided to purchase the lot adjoining to the east of the present building, with 32 feet frontage. Also to build a new building to cover the one now occupied and the new acquisition. The present building will be utilized in the construction as far as practicable, but the plan is an entire new structure, two stories high. It promises to be a fine ornament to the city, and it is expected it will be finished during the coming summer.

James H. Haight of Peckskill, N. Y., an old friend of the Beach, who is largely interested in property here, is back to spend another winter, and has been warmly welcomed by many old friends. He is not accompanied this year by his two grandsons as he has been heretofore. They have remained North to attend to their school duties.

Quite an automobile party of old friends left Monday morning for a tour of southern and western Florida. They expect to visit Palm Beach, Miami, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Lakeland, Plant City and other interesting points. Those going were: Mrs. Elizabeth Burhoe of Chicago, Mrs. E. Y. Ketcham of Oswego, Ill.; Mrs. Flora Fay and Mrs. Anna Payne of Hinkley, Ill., and E. B. Mott of Tiffin, N. Y.

Marvin Knocks Out Middleton in The Fourth Round

Boxing fans who assembled at the Armory last evening were treated to a fast program which created enthusiasm and caused several over enthusiastic spectators to rise up on their hind legs and howl their approval when the going got to be rather rough. It was by far the largest attendance of the season and although Cracker Anderson failed to appear in his scheduled fight with Jack Middleton the crowd was content when it was announced that Tom Marvin had consented to substitute for Anderson and would put on the mitts with Middleton.

As Marvin and Middleton moved to the ring line in the opening stanza it was seen that they meant business. They went at each other with a will and as a result Marvin was floored twice in the second round, but was able to come back strong and carry the fight to Middleton who swapped punches for punch until he was upset in the fourth round with a terrific body blow over the heart. He took the count of nine, but when he came to his feet Marvin was after him with the determination to win and as a result of a terrific onslaught Middleton went down and out. His second throw in the towel just as the referee finished the count of ten in the dressing room it developed that Middleton had suffered a broken rib.

Jack Jordan jumped into the ring and declared that Joe Nasser would meet him then and there that he would wrestle for nothing. Nasser accompanied him and for fifteen minutes the going was fast and furious but neither could secure a fall and the match was declared a draw.

Then challenges came fast and furious Jordan wanted to meet Nasser in a finish match and Tom Marvin declared that he was willing to go on with Jordan and Nasser in an evening and throw both of them two straight falls, winner to take all.

In the curtain raising, Battling Stones of Daytona went on with Kid Johnson of New Orleans for a scheduled six rounds. The contest was only cut short in the second round and deliberately fell down when Shigan wiped him on the snout.

The second preliminary developed the fact that Joe Leonard had paid close attention to the previous bout as he cut out in the second stanza and pulled a deliberate job before he had been hit a scorching blow. The fourth round was the last of the evening.

While the preliminaries developed two chess champions the ending was all that could be expected and everyone present was really satisfied that they had gotten their money's worth.

Stetson Team to Meet Rollins in a Fast Game Tonight

A number of local people plan to go to Deland this evening to see the basketball game on the Stetson floor, between the Deland students and Rollins college, which promises to be one of the fastest games of the season. On Saturday evening Stetson will meet the University of Florida, which is expected to draw a large crowd from Daytona.

The Stetson team are champions of Florida having carried off both inter-collegiate and amateur honors last year. The Daily News, in referring to the Catholic club of Jacksonville, opponents of the National Guard here last Saturday, as champions of Florida was mistaken, as Stetson holds this honor, having won every game last season, among them being a 56 to 28 defeat which they administered to the Catholic club team.

Stetson is determined to again take state honors this year and has an excellent team.

News Adv. Brings Stolen Wheel Back

While attending the meeting of the Elks' drum and bugle corps last Thursday evening, Geo. Schroeder, of the Daily News, had the misfortune to have his bicycle stolen, which he left under the porch of the Elks' club house.

A classified advertisement was run in the Daily News, asking that the wheel be returned if found. D. C. McElroy, who with his son, DeWitt, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Hoppert at 722 South Ridgewood avenue, saw the same evening noticed while walking along South Ridgewood avenue, near the city limits, a bicyclist lying in the ditch alongside the road. He continued his walk and up his wheel stopped and inspected. The wheel and finding it apparently in good condition, took it home with him.

At once as he received his next issue of the News he noted the "lost" advertisement, and returned the wheel to Mr. Schroeder, much to the latter's gratification.

Woman's Auxiliary Of American Legion To Be Formed Here

The formation of a woman's auxiliary in connection with the Russell C. Warner Post, American Legion, was decided upon at the regular meeting of the post last evening, it being felt by the members that such an organization could do beneficial work in connection with the post, in arranging banquets, civic affairs, and in assisting in the efforts of the post.

The auxiliary will be composed of wives, mothers and sweethearts of the Legionnaires, and it is understood that they are most enthusiastic over the prospects of an immediate organization, that greater work may be done for the ex-soldiers.

Looking Out for Buddies

A resolution was sent last evening by the local post, to all members of the Florida legislature, asking that charges be probed and action taken against a condition in which former service men are being given insufficient care, are being ill treated, and not receiving a square deal in many hospitals in the country. This agitation against such conditions is being taken up by all American Legion posts and some good results are expected to follow.

The local boys are back of the fight strong to see that their former comrades in arms are given better care.

David Shultz Resigns

Adjutant David Shultz last evening asked to resign his position as an officer of the local post, pleading other duties are taking too much of his time to properly devote himself to the work of the American Legion. His resignation was received with regret, and A. E. Shobham elected to fill the office, which has a full year to run. Mr. Shultz having been re-elected last year.

Rehearsals for Comedy Progress With Great Vigor

Rehearsals for "What Happened to Jones" are being conducted with spirit and vigor as the date of the production draws nearer. The cast, realizing the difficulties ahead of them, are determined to speak so and play that no one in the building that night shall miss the fun—and it is well fun. With this end in view they have even suggested rehearsing every night. So if conditions permit, and we are told they do, a first class performance may be expected. Some additions to the cast have been made recently so that it is now complete, fourteen lively citizens who are bent on giving the public a hearty laugh.

PRINCE GEORGE

Mrs. Lorin Holmes of Ridgewood avenue was hostess at a very happy outing party Monday. She had as her guests Mrs. Mary Yonlin, Mrs. W. W. Hilyard, Mrs. James Kelsey, Miss Ethel Degnan and Miss Helen Lewis, guests of the Prince George. The party motored to DeLeon Springs, and from there to DeLand, where they had lunch at the College Arms, returning in the evening. The day was ideal and the affair a most enjoyable one.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Gries of the Prince George have joined the Clarendon Golf club and every day are enjoying their favorite game with friends on the fine Clarendon golf links.

Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Woodson of Birmingham, Ala., who are motoring through Florida, were dinner guests at the Prince George Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Abrams of Atlanta, Ga., are at the Prince George, where they will spend several days. They arrived Saturday by motor. They are very much enjoying the fine trips about the Triple Cities and the beautiful sunshine and warm weather.

W. W. Wilson, who is a representative of the Modco Tire company of Wichita, Kan., is at the Prince George to enjoy a vacation of a week or so. His headquarters are in Cleveland, Ohio. He will later go to Palm Beach and Miami.

Miss Emma Hoover and Mrs. T. D. Sheldon of Columbus, Ohio, arrived in Daytona Saturday and are at the Prince George, where they will remain for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hoecker of Brooklyn, N. Y., who have been spending some time at Palm Beach and Miami, are guests at the Prince George on their way home. They will remain for a few days in Daytona.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Johnson, who are making a motor trip through the state, were at the Prince George for luncheon on Sunday. Their home is in Norfolk, Va.

Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Parker of Charleston, S. C., who are enjoying an extended motoring trip, are spending several days at the Prince George.

Program for the Friday Musicales Exceptional One

The second Friday morning musicale of the season, will be given at the Palmto club this week, the ladies of the club being fortunate in securing for the pianist of the morning Mrs. Adam Marks of Springfield, Mass.

The violinist will be Miss Mary Nelson, a pupil of Theodore Spiering of New York City, who also studied with Leon Sabinoff of the Chicago Musical college.

The cellist for the program is Paul Koster, of the Peabody Conservatory of Baltimore, who studied with Bert Wirtz the famous Dutch cellist.

The three musicians mentioned are at the head of their respective accomplishments in the musical world, and the program should prove to be the most interesting and largest attended of any of the season's program.

It is seldom that local music lovers have the opportunity to hear on a Daytona platform such talent as Mrs. Marks, Miss Nelson and Paul Koster bring to the Palmto club for the Friday morning musicale.

Many of the foremost men in America after trying other places have become permanent residents of Daytona and vicinity, thus proving by their works that considered from all angles the Daytona section appeals to them as does no other place. For instance, the richest man in the world after trying Southern California for several years and then Georgia, and then spending two or three winters here, has made this his permanent winter home, and has built a beautiful residence on the Halifax.

Many others, leaders in American life, have done the same thing. Probably no other community in America can show such a list of prominent winter home owning residents.

The Invitation

WE, the undersigned property owners and tax payers in the TRIPLE CITIES, hereby extend to you a most hearty invitation to call this "home" if you are not already permanently located in this community. Insight Into State Laws Given by Mrs. Cotnam to Women

The second of a series of addresses on American citizenship and civics, being given at the Palm (to club) by Mrs. T. T. Cotnam, was delivered last evening before a large and appreciative audience. Mrs. Cotnam, stressing state laws and government throughout the evening's address and showed great interest, as well as legislative matters.

Mrs. J. F. McMillan, of Ocala, president of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, also spoke during the evening, particularly on legislation affecting the women of the state.

The Ocala branch of the state federation will be speaking at the 1921 meeting of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, which will be held at the Ocala Hotel, Ocala, Fla., on Jan. 24-25-26.

A woman's place in the world is a subject which has been taken up by the women of the state. The time will have been chosen at the local level.

The women of the state, who have been the first to take up the subject, will be the first to take up the subject.

JABALY OFFERING A REWARD OF $500 FOR ARREST OF THIEVES

In order that the search for the thieves who carried off between $40,000 and $50,000 worth of stock from his store Saturday night or Sunday may be apprehended, Michael Jabaly, proprietor of the store has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties, in hopes that this amount might prove an incentive for officers to renew their efforts, which have so far been conspicuous by their absence.

"Although the local police notified the sheriff's office immediately after the discovery of the robbery, Monday morning, neither the sheriff or any one else from the DeLand office has been here so far as I can learn," stated Mr. Jabaly at noon today. "I do not want to do the police or sheriff's forces any injustice," added Mr. Jabaly, "but so far any information I have secured from them regarding their efforts lead me to believe that nothing is being done, beyond the fact that police departments in several other cities were notified."

Mr. Jabaly states that the greater portion of the stock taken was made up of valuable linens, all imported stock, embroidered sport waists, and imported flax lace by the yard. Among the articles missing is a handkerchief which is valued at $25.00, one of the most valuable pieces of its kind in America.

The thieves passed over all-wire sweaters, taking some valuable silk ones, cashmere silk material, and only the most expensive articles in the stock, portions of stock being taken from the window display, the shoes, coats, trunks, luggage and suitcases.

It is now believed that the thieves were patrons of the store last Tuesday. A man and woman went into the store inquiring for various articles, a great deal of the stock being shown them. Mrs. Jabaly who waited on them, remarked after their departure on the queer questions which the couple asked, particularly as to when they would have the greater part of their season's stock in, and were told "next Saturday," also the woman made it a point to learn which were the most expensive articles. In her regular mentioning several valuable pieces of lace which were shown them, and which were taken, while others were left. Mrs. Jabaly had furnished a minute description of the parties who were strangers to her and described as rather poorly dressed, which at the time drew her attention to the fact that they inquired only about the most expensive pieces in stock.

It is believed that the robbery took place shortly after the store was closed Saturday evening, as the baker at the Federal Bakery was on duty from 10 p. m. Sunday to early Monday morning, and it is believed he would have heard them had they been in the store at that time. The night watchman on the new bank garage also remembers now, having heard some noise in the Gardner block between 2 and 3 a. m. Sunday morning, but made no effort to see what it was. The city night watchman passed thru the lane at the rear of the store about 1 a. m. Sunday. Mr. Jabaly looked into his store Sunday through the door glass. If as everything appeared as he left it, with the light burning, he did not go inside. The window curtains were drawn, but a view through the store was possible through the door. The light was left burning by the robbers.

Many beach street merchants are greatly interested in the search being made as they feel that they might be next. It determined efforts are being made to round up the thieves at this time. They feel that two of these burglaries a night is too much, and that something should be done to rectify conditions.

BODIES ARE REBUILT

CRIPPLER YOUNGSTERS STARTED ON ROAD TO SUCCESS

(Newspaper Enterprise Association)

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—The most wonderful factory in the world is at Spaulding school.

It remodels and makes over deformed children.

When the recess bell rings you see 200 kiddies learning to forget their misfortunes.

Legless boys run races. Girls with braced limbs play basketball.

They swing on rings and bars. No school children in Chicago are happier.

Miss Jane Neil, the principal, makes it her particular business to keep the children happy.

"A happy spirit is half the battle won," she says.

Famous surgeons visit the school and straighten out warped bodies, adjust braces and casts, and model artificial limbs.
